

ISPRS

Earth Observation Forum

Wednesday June 8th
during ISPRS Congress

Chairs:

Gunter Schreier, DLR German Remote Sensing Data Center, Oberpfaffenhofen, DE and Ian Dowman, Emeritus; University College London, UK

Agenda

Within the ISPRS forum Track, this forum will present current and perceived future trends in satellite based Earth observation from the space agencies and commercial operators point of view. New Earth observation programs, missions and satellite constellations as well as new IT-systems and data analysis approaches will be presented by agencies and companies. The forum will be complemented by a round table discussion, focusing on the interaction between institutional/commercial Earth operators and the international science & engineering community, in facing the new opportunities and challenges in Earth observation
